HOISTS FLAG OF TRUCE

Austria's Request for Armistice Made to Diaz, But Too Late.

Vienna (via London), Nov. 1.—Austrian military officials have been received within the Italian lines to discuss preliminaries to an armistice, it is announced by the war office.

"The high command early Tuesday established communication with the Italian command," the statement said.

"Every effort is to be made for the avoidance of further useless sacrifice of blood, for the cessation of hostilities and for the conclusion of an armistice.

London, Nov. 1 —Austria has "kamraded."

The white flag was hoisted over a front line trench in one of the few quiet sectors of the Italian front early yesterday and across "No man's Land" into the Italian lines walked a parlamentaire.

He conveyed to Gen Diaz, Italy's commander in chief, the Austrian generalissimo's request for an armistice.

Diaz's answer, stripped of military diplomatic verbiage, was: "To late!" He told the armistice seeker that the request would ba forwarded to the interallied War Council at Versailles.

There the matter rests, for the present, though word is expected at any moment of a complete Austrian capitulation Since unified allied command was created, direct communications between Versailles and the various headquarters in the field have been perfected to the limit. It will take few hours for the supreme war council to flasn its decision to Diaz.

Opinion here tonight is that the Austrians will "sign anything" and are waiting, craving only the chance to sign.

One strong report has it that there has been a tacit understanding between Turkey and Austria, and that the latter's surrender was to synchronize with that of the porte.

HAUNTEED MAN CONFESSES.

Seeing Ghost of Victim, Tells of Killing and Blames Woman.

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 1.—Conscience-stricken and suffering with the hallucination that a ghost of a dead man was haunting him, John Salem called County Detective Smith and other county officials to his cell in the county jail, where, acording to the officers he confessed the murder of Nicholas Martel, implicating Mrs. Martel.

The officials state that Salem and Mrs. Martel killed the man in order that they could be married. According to the alleged confession, which the officers declare is in writing, Salem and Mrs. Martel, who is 28 years old and pretty, after a concealed love affair covering a period of about a year, decided to murder the husband. First they tried to give him enough liquor to kill him, and when that failed they watched until the intoxicated man went to an outhouse. When Mrs. Martel reported that her husband was helplessly intoxicated she and Salem tore the Martel baby's dress into shreds and strangled and gagged Martel with the fabric?

The copple then hastened to the house and began preparations for a hasty departure, which was interrupted by the arrival of officers, who had come to investigate the absenee of Martel from work.

FLU EPIDEMIC IS OVER

Temporary Hospital in Westminster Building to Close Tomorrow and Volunteer Nurses Relieved—Few Remaining Patients Will go to Alexandria Hospital.

The influenza epidemic here is rapidly declining. Very few cases of the disease have been reported during the past forty-eigh hours and all of those who have been ill with the disease are reported to be on the road to recovey. Owing to the fact that the disease has about run its course here, the temporary hospital established several weeks ago in the Westminster Building for the treatment of influenza patients will be closed to patients tomorrow, and the volunteer nurses will be relieved of their duties.

There are now about fifteen patients under treatment in this hospital and twelve are convalescent and expect to return to their homes either tomorrow or Sunday. Those who will be unable to go to their homes will be transferred tomorrow to the Alexandria Hospital for treatment.

Dr. H. C. Robles, acting medical health officer in charge, stated today he is highly pleased with the rapid decline of the disease here and the able manner in which the physicians have handled the epidemic.

A total of ninety-six patients were treated at the temporary, hospital in the Westminster Building since it was opened.

MAY SHORTEN HOLIDAYS

State Department of Education Suggests This as Solution of Present Problem.

Richmond, Nov. 1.—On account of the disrupted conditions of school work and the great amount of time already lost because of the influenza epidemic, the annual meeting of the Virginia Education Conference will not be held Thanksgiving week.

Question of holding the conference during the Christmas holidays or at a later date in the spring, or the decision not to have a conference at all this school year, was deferred until after the meeting of the executive committee of the State Teachers' Association, which will be held in about two weeks.

Owing to the time lost on account of the influenza epidemic, two problems will occur to school officials: first, the effect of the term reduction on the credit and standing of high schools; second, the advisability of teaching Saturdays and on all holidays in order to compensate for the time lost.

On the first question, the State Department of Education rules, that if all arrangements have been adequately made for a nine months' term and the teachers are paid for the time lost and a reasonable care is taken to compensate partially for the apparent handicaps to pupils because of the loss of time, the credit of a high school which, in the circumstances maintains a term somewhat less than nine months need not be jeopardized.

In regard to the second proposition the department suggests that, rather than each Saturday, the following program may enable school officials to make up a considerable portion of the time lost: "Save two days Thanksgiving," it says, "by teaching both Thursday and Friday, reserving a portion of Thursday for appropriate exercises Save about five days at Christmas by giving a holiday only one week in length, namely, from December 23 to December 29, inclusive. Two days are saved on the birthdays of Lee and Washington, in as much as one falls Sunday and the other Saturday.

"For schools which give more than one day at Easter, the holiday should be reduced to one day. Save three or four days at the end of the session by having commencement exercises exclusive of the regular school term and by reducing the time devoted to examinations. In addition to the above one or two days may be saved by teaching one or two Saturdays or by extending the term one or two days The above schedule for the average division will save approximately fifteen school days or three weeks."

For Rent—Eight room cottage, electricity, water furnace, garage, etc. on macadam road 1 1-2 miles west of Alexandria. Possession at once. A. C. Willis, Route 3, Alexandria, Va.

DEBACLE IS INEVITABLE

Austrian Mountain Line Broken Everywhere; Allies Reach Livenza River Along Its Whole Length.

London, Nov. 1.—The Austrian armies have been cut in two by the British forces on the Italian front, commanded by Lord Cavan.

The Austrians are falling back everywhere and are surrendering by the thousands.

A military debacle appears inevitable.

Rome, Nov. 1.—More than 50,000 prisoners have been captured by the allies on the Italian front, General Diaz announced tonight. The total of counted captured guns is 360.

"The enemy is abandoning his guns and stores intact," the statement says.

The whole Austrian mountain front has caved in, the announcement shows. The river line has been broken everywhere. The allies have reached the Livnza along its whole length.

Diaz's forces have captured Col. Caprile, Col. Benato, Asolene, Mount Fresselan, together with the Austrian salient there, and Solarolo and Mount Spiranenso.

RED CROSS TRAINING SCHOOL

Fourth For Home Services Opens in Richmond November 11 and Continues For Six Weeks.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 1.—The fourth training school on Red Cross Home Service opens at Richmond on November 11th and continues for six weeks. Dr. W. A. Sadtler, director of the School of Social Work and Public Health is in charge of the Institute. The course consists of a series of lectures on social service topics combined with practical field training. The latter will be under the direction of Miss Ruth Jones, Potomac Division, American Red Cross, and Miss Mary Dumuy, supervisor of social work in the School of Social Work and Public Health.

The Home Service Section in each Red Cross Chapter is a bureau of information and service ready to assist in straightening out allotment and allowance difficulties compensation and insurance claims; family problems which are doubly heavy during the man's absence. The institute provides the training which is so essential for those whose task it is to meet these war-time problems in the home.

If the war should end tomorow, the men would not be home for a year; during the demobilization period, no less than during the time of combat, a very great responsibility rests upon every Red Cross Chapter to maintain in the homes of our men who have won the victory for democracy, the elements of that democracy which they left in our cars when they went away.

After the war reconstruction is going to be the biggest problem that has faced the Red Cross. Each community must be ready to do well its part in this work which President Wilson calls the field of "increasing opportunity."

FIRES LAST NIGHT AND THIS MORNING

Early last night an alarm was sounded on upper Prince street, caused by a burning bed in a house in the thirteen-hundred block. The apparatus responded, and the flames were soon extinguished.

Shortly before four o'clock this morning a frame structure used as a carpenter's shop at the northeast corner of Wilkes and Union streets was found to be burning. An alarm soon brought the department to the scene. The fire, however, had gained considerable headway before the arrival of the apparatus, and the structure was consumed. An abandoned railway car, adjoining the carpenter's shop, was considerably damaged, but its destruction was prevented by the firemen. The origin of the fire is unknown.

SOLDIERS ARE HONORED

Halloween Celebration Last Night at Camp Humphreys For 219th Engineers.

A brilliant affair was given in the officers' quarters of the 218th Engineers last night, in honor of the 219th Engineers who are leaving Camp Humphreys some time Friday, and arrangements have about been made for them to go overseas very shortly. The officers' mess hall was converted into a veritable retreat, for Halloween orgies, the tables and benches having all been removed, and the side walls and supporting columns artistically decorated with autumn leaves, and with Halloween character decorations, in paper and design. These decorations were arranged by Private M. Handel, who is known throughout the camp as a singer and entertainer, and who had recently been transferred from the 5th regiment to the 218th so that he could put on entertainments from time to time in this section of the camp. The success of the officers' entertainment and dance was due to the efforts of Lieut. Fortier, ably assisted by Private Handel, in the carrying out of all the arrangements. As all the musical orchestra talent in the camp was busy with other work last evening, it was necessary for Private Handle to engage an orchestra of six pieces from Washington, and arrange for transportation to and from that city to Camp Humphreys. About fifty of Washington's young ladies were present, and special arrangements for trucks were made to convey them to and from the camp. Lieut Fortier made full and complete arrangements looking to the care of the visitors during this delightful entertainment. Arrangements had been made for this dance to be given in the War Camp Community Service Hall in Alexandria, but at the last moment it was found that the officers of the 219th would not be permitted to leave the camp the day previous to their departure, and, therefore hasty arrangements had to be made to carry out the program in the camp However, the War Camp Community Service permitted the use of its automobile for conveying some of the musicians to the camp from Alexandria.

SOLDIERS WANT PIANOS

The soldiers at Camp Humphreys are anxious that citizens donate either old or new pianos for their entertainment. Each piano received will be placed in the different mess halls of the different companies regiments and will be used to entertain the soldiers while they are training in the camp to lick Kaiser Bill. It is the purpose of the entertainment committee to use them in giving entertainments nightly and help make the soldier boys forget their loneliness.

If you have a piano you would like to give to the soldiers just drop a line to Private N. A. Fishar, care of War Camp Community Service, Prince and Royal streets, and a truck will call for it.

AIRCRAFT INVESTIGATION

Delays and Waste Due to Defective Organization of the Work.

The long-awaited report on the aircraft investigation, conducted during the last five months by Charles E. Hughes and Attorney General Gregory, was placed before President Wilson yesterday by the attorney general, and immediately made public. Delays and waste of the production program, the report declares, were due chiefly to "the defective organization of the work of aircraft production and the serious lack of competent diection of that work by the responsible officers of the signal corps."

No fault is found with the management of aircraft affairs since the reorganization of last May, which placed John D. Ryan in charge. The civilian personnel of the aircraft production board is exonerated of any wrong doing Attorney General Gregory, in a letter transmitting the report to President Wilson, says he is in "substantial accord" with the findings by Mr. Hughes.

STARTS AHEAD OF TIME

Contribution of $150 Received From Citizen to United War Work Campaign—Splendid Work of Jewish Welfare Board One of Seven Great Agencies in Big Drive.

The United War Work Campaign was successfully started today, ten days ahead of time, when a prospective contributor in the one hundred dollar class said he felt it to be his duty to give one hundred and fifty dollars. This patriot is early and representative of a very large class of citizens who will give and give liberally until the "germ" is taken out of Germany. This campaign is to be conducted at the instance of President Wilson for the benefit of seven organizations. Among them is the Jewish Welfare Board, a "Win the War" aggregation working to build up the morale of more than one hundred thousand Jewish men in the Army and Navy. This they do by sending trained workers to camps cantonments, forts and naval training stations to provide for the recreational and spiritual needs of all men in uniform. All men in civilian dress can aid in this work by giving to help build welfare buildings in camps, rest and writing rooms with English, Yiddish and Hebrew literature, victrolas, pianos and other things that make camp life whole some. The Jewish Welfare Board is conducting religious services in camp on Friday evenings, on all holidays and on special occasions with the aid of the visiting and resident rabbis Once you see the great personal service rendered by this great organization you will give liberally and when you think of the other six allied in this united drive you will give until your heart crays out enough. A letter from one in the service says:

"I can't tell you what it meant to me to find the kindly smile and welcoming hand of the representative of the Jewish Welfare Board "Over There."

A parent writes:

"It certainly is a comfort to know that although it is an impossibility for me to be with my son, there are others who are keeping a watchful eye over him and giving him the fellowship of a wonderful organization.'

General Pershing says:

"The constant support and cordial assistance of our brothers of the Jewish faith, and tonight that all creeds are united under, one banner, gives courage to our Army and urges on to victory."

The Executive Committee is getting ready to solicit for your gift and the slogan will be "Maybe you can't fight; but, you can give to the United War Work Campaign."

CAPITULATION IS NEAR

Acceptance by Germany of Most Rigid Armistice Terms Expected Momentarily.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The Inter-Allied Diplomatic Council meetings will not end before Sunday, according to belief expressed here today.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Complete surrender of the central powers to the giant forces of civilization is drawing rapidly nearer, official Washington believes today

Already Mitteleuropa has been crushed by allied arms. Austria's direct capitulation is expected momentarily in the wake of her frantic appeal for an armistice on the field of battle.

Copenhagen, Nov. 1.—Rumors are current in Berlin that both the Kaiser and the crown prince have abdicated, according to Vorwaerts.

Amsterdam, Nov. 1.—The Independent German Socialists are starting a nation-wide agitation in Germany for the immediate abdication of the Kaiser and the dismissal of Field Marshal Hindenburg, according to Berlin advices reaching here today. The Socialists also want the commands of Rupprecht and the crown prince withdrawn at once.

London, Nov. 1.—"I am unable to fight any longer and am compelled to take a decisive step. I have asked the Pope to intervene for an immediate armistice."

This message was sent by Emperor Charles of Austria to the Kaiser on Saturday, the Geneva correspondent of the Daily Express telegraphs.

The Czecho-Slovaks have cut off all rail communications between Berlin and Vienna, the correspondent adds.

The Austrian evacuation of Italy began Monday. The whole Adamello position is already evacuated.

Several Hungarian regiments mutinied and deserted.

London, Nov. 1.—Germany's capitulation is expected momentarily. She is expected to accept even the most rigid armistice terms. Best military and political opinion here is that she cannot hold out longer than two or three weeks at the most.

If, however, she should decide to make a last ditch fight behind the Rhine, with Turkey and Austria out, the very maximum time given her by experts is six months.

ROOSEVELT, TAFT AND HUGHES

Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft defeated candidates for President, have united in an appeal for the election of a Republican majority in Congress. It is a long document, but it can be briefly summarized. These two former Presidents want a Republican Congress because they are not satisfied with the way President Wilson has conducted the war; they are not satisfied with his plans for making peace; they are not satisfied with his plans for reconstruction after the war. If they were in power they would conduct the war differently; they would make another sort of peace; they would adopt different plans of reconstruction.

The stress of Republican leaders to secure control of Congress finds pitiful illustration in the appeal of Chas. E. Hughes another defeated candidate for chief magistrate, for support of party candidates in a speech delivered by him in New York City on Tuesday night. The defeated candidate for the presidency asks the voters of the country to come to the rescue of the Republican party in its lust for office and help tie the hands of the President in the further conduct of the war after he has forced the war lords to their knees by raising the false cry that the issue involved in the elections is the saving of the republic from the methods of autocracy.

Contending that "no political party was paramount in patriotism," Judge Hughes denies the soundness of the President's assumption that only the return to Congress of a Democratic majority would uphold his national leadership.

As has been suggested by several democratic papers, in taking issue with the President on this statement, Judge Hughes entirely ignores the arguments as to the impression that would be created abroad by Republican triumph, however the result might be construed at home. That enemy countries would construe Republican victory as a distinct repudiation of the war politics of the administration, has been freely voiced by the press of those countries, in which such a result is confidently predicted. And, what is more to the point, these papers use the same arguments in support of their predictions that the Republicans are adopting in the effort to influence voters in the campaign they are conducting—that is, dissatisfaction of American voters—with the methods and policies of the President applied to the conduct of the war.

Referring to the coming elections, the Cologne Gazette, in its issue of August 17, says: "At the beginning of November the people will, in the congressional elections, sit in judgment over Wilson and his policies. If he succeeds, his dictatorship rests upon a foundation enabling him to proclaim himself the Czar of America, without fear of encountering opposition, but the probability is that he will not succeed. In any event, the November elections will have a significance as they have never had before."

The chairman of the National Democratic Congressional Committee correctly states the issue in the controversy over the control of Congress when he says that it "resolves itself simply into whether the American people desire to have the President backed up by a well-trained military establishment to conduct the war, or whether they wish it conducted by a political committee of unschooled, untrained men."

THE BLAST OF GOD

The Kaiser, until recently, has been assuming that Jehovah has been with him in his futile attempts to place the world under Prussian domination. He has oft had the temerity to say that "with the help of God" he would accomplish this and that

During the past summer and fall it must have been apparent to him that his God, like Fortune, is capricious, and he has been left to his just fate.

The late Thomas Carlyle was a close student of the book of Job. He read it almost incessantly, and pronounced it the greatest of all literary productions of man. While not possessing the comprehensive mind of the great Scotch thinker, we have oft sat at the feet of Job and noted expressions of the Chaldean and his friends which seem to apply to all ages of the world. Eliphaz, the Temanite, it will be remembered, in his colloquy with Job, said: "Remember, I pray thee, whoever perished, being innocent? or where were the righteous cut off? Even as I have seen, they that plough iniquity, and sow wickedness, reap the same. By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his nostrils are they consumed."

Had the Kaiser followed the example of Carlyle and made the book of Job a study, he would long ago have seen his finish, that terrible finish, which he now, sees is imminent, and he would not have been guilty of the blasphemy of alleging that God was with him.

His dreams of world dominion are evaporating fast, and should he escape being placed before an international jury upon the charge of wholesale murder, he will be looked upon with contempt as long as he lives

The inscription of the medal struck in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, on the dispersion and destruction of the vaunted Spanish armada, was "Afflavit Deus et dissipantur"—"the breath of God has issued, and they are dispersed."

ALLIES DROP OUT

Turkey and Austria have followed Bulgaria from the field of battle, accepting unconditional surrender and leaving Germany standing alone, without a friend or an ally in the civilized world.

This is the substance of dispatches which reached Washington yesterday, bulletin following bulletin so fast that it was almost impossible for Government officials to keep abreast with the swiftly moving tide of war. First came the news flashed from London that Turkey had applied for an armistice, expressing a willingness to accept whatever terms her enemies might impose.

Close upon the heels of this came a cablegram from Rome indicating that the defeated and overwhelmed Austrian armies had applied to the Italian General Diaz for an immediate armistice; also upon such terms as the Allies might lay down. This proposal was forwarded forthwith to the Versailles Council, which is now considering the most momentous problems raised by the world war—the problems of an immediate peace.

And wherever one turns in he hears it flatly predicted that peace will come before Christmas. Such prophesies have been ventured by a few officials before, but they have not been general until the receipt of news of the collapse of Austria and Turkey. On every hand there is the feeling that Germany must give up the ghost before many more weeks pass.

Momentous events are crowding one upon the heels of another so rapidly that the mind can only faintly grasp them.

Partly we have been prepared for the news, partly our minds are distracted by the bigger news that may come at any moment—the announcement of Germany's surrender.

Thoughtful men, however, will not allow themselves to become too enthusiastic over the prospect of an early peace. They will reserve their elation rather than run the risk of having it shattered by some improbable contingency. There will be time to rejoice when Germany finally submits.

THE FEAR OF INVASION

It is evident from every line of information that comes out of Germany that the people of that country are haunted by the possibility of an invasion; that they shrink from this as from death, and the approach of the allied armies toward the German frontier has had more to do with their acquiescence in a peace of defeat than all the other influences combined.

If the military party is to rally the empire for one more stand before agreeing to an armistice which shatters Germany's military strength, that party must give some sort of guarantee that enemy armies will not put foot upon German soil; that the long range guns of the allies will not begin dropping high explosive shells into German cities and that some means will be found of defending interior communities from the British, French and American air raids.

The only guarantee that can be given to this end is a sterner resistance on the part of the German armies. If they stand upon their present lines and continue to hold the allies back until winter comes, there is a chance that German territory will not be pressed by the invader's heel in the immediate future. But if Marshal Foch moves on, day by day drawing nearer and nearer the frontier it seems certain that the German nation will demand peace at whatever price and will find means of enforcing that demand.

Well may Germans tremble when they contemplate the possibility of an enemy invasion. They know the wreck and ruin which they inflicted upon French and Belgian cities and they know how they applauded their incendiary armies. They know, the terror they created when their airplanes began to bombard London from the air, and they know the destruction they sought to accomplish by their long-range cannonading of Paris. They feel that no mercy will be shown them once the enemy descends upon their towns and villages, and none will be shown if Germany persists in defending those cities.—(Richmond Times-Dispatch.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Postmaster General Burleson last night wired General Manager Bonney, of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company at Norfolk, to announce that all employees of that company now out on strike must return to work within 24 hours. The Postmaster General in his telegram declared that as the telephone lines of the nation are now under government control, strikes are not permissible, and declared that the demands of the electricians and operators would be reached and disposed of in the regular order of business.

Miss Gay P. Somers, of Accomac county, 20 years of age, a Red Cross nurse, died in St. Andrew's Hospital, Lynchburg, on Monday of pneumonia, which developed from Spanish influenza. She contracted the disease while on duty. She was visiting in Lynchburg when the epidemic of influenza broke out and immediately offered her services to the stricken of that city. She was the daughter of Captain and Mrs. W. James Somers, of Bloxom, Va., and the sister of the late Lieut. Vernon Lee Somers, of the Marine Corps, one of the first men from Accomac county to die in France, having been killed in action in Belleau Woods on June 7.

NEW STATE FORMED

Germans in Dual Monarchy Notify President, Asking Aid.

Berne, via London, Nov. 1.—The Germans of Austria-Hungary who have just formed an independent state, have sent a note to President Wilson, notifying him of the creation of such a state. They claim all territories where the majority of the population is German. They ask that their representatives be admitted to the peace negotiations.

The note begs President Wilson to accord the new state means of putting itself without delay in direct relations with representatives of all the belligerent powers. It subscribes unreservedly to President Wilson's peace principles. It recognizes the complete independence of the Jugo-Slova and Czecho-Slova States

The Austrian Germans in their note claim parts of Moravia and Silesia as rightfully belonging to their new state.

They appeal to the American president to intervene, giving the German nation the right of self-determination and beg him to bring about an immediate armistice.

HUNS SCORE AIR RAIDS

Seem Never To Have Heard of Germans Bombing Towns.

Paris, Nov. 1.—Read this amazing "holier than thou" excerpt from the Signale, a musical paper published in Leipzig:

"The inhabitants of Frankfurt are brave. Although Allied aviators early one morning dropped bombs on the Frankfurt Opera House one exploding in the foyer the audience came as usual that evening to hear Wagner's opera. And the sanguinary monsters who bombard our towns and kill and wound peaceable civilians dare to call us 'Huns'!"

Probably Frankfurters have never heard of air raids on London or Paris or upon numerous hospitals. Or the "Verboten" sign hangs only on one side of the fence.

TURKEY OUT OF WAR

Dardanelles Open and British Naval Occupation of Constantinople May Follow Quickly

London, Nov. 1.—An armistice between Turkey and the entente powers was signed Wednesday night. It became operative at noon yesterday.

Amid a furore of cheers, Sir George Cave, the home secretary, made this announcement in the House of Commons late today.

Word also is expected momentarily of a British naval occupation of Constantinople.

A British prisoner-general conducted the negotiations for Great Britain. He is Gen. Townshend, who, with an army of 10,000, was surrounded and captured at Kut-el-Amara. A few days ago he was released from the Turkish prison camp, and captive became armistice and peace negotiator.

The end of the preliminary parleys saw the Turks, who starved him and his heroic army out two years ago, surrendering unconditionally to his government's and the allies' terms.

The conditions of Turkey, capitulation, as outlined by Sir George Cave, include:

1. Free passage by the allied fleet through the Bosporus and into the Black Sea.

2. Occupation of the forts along the Dardanelles and the Bosporus.

3. Immediate repatriation of all allied prisoners in Turkish prison camps.

CONFER ON ARMISTICE

Representatives of the Allied Nations Hold Preliminary Meetings in Paris

Paris, Nov. 1.—The chiefs and other representatives of the Allied Governments, like Colonel House, having held preliminary meetings in Paris, were deliberating yesterday afternoon, according to the Temps, at Versailles, the seat of the inter-Allied Council.

London, Nov. 1.—Marshal Foch's armistice terms arrived in Berlin Tuesday night, the Vossiche Zeitung, of Berlin, says it learns according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

The preliminary conversations which lately have occupied the Allied representatives in Paris have been concluded and more important discussions now are beginning, according to reports reaching official quarters here. To take part in the discussions Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, went to France yesterday, crossing the Channel in an airplane, as he had done on a previous occasion.

The scope of the deliberations of the Allied representatives has not been announced and, although it is stated from a reliable source some official declaration of armistice terms, possibly may be made before the end of the present week, nothing definitely is known about them.

Some commentators believe that the deliberations will be protracted beyond the time originally intended.

Unofficial reports and speculations on the armistice terms continue to occupy a prominent place in the newspapers.

Suggestions put forward by the British delegates, the Daily Express says in an editorial, probably will be adopted with some modifications by the rest of the Allies. The proposals were put forward, it adds, with the definite idea of preventing Germany from resuming hostilities when once an armistice is granted and also of securing adequate guarantees for the signing of a peace treaty based on President Wilson's 14 points.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

No Mystery in Meat

Some things are so simple that they have to be explained again and again. When things are obvious, people keep looking for mysteries behind them.

So it is with the packing business. The mere size of Swift & Company confuses many. Because their imaginations are not geared up to scale, they believe there must be magic in it somewhere—some weird power.

Swift & Company is just like any other manufacturing business, run by human beings like yourself; it takes in raw material on the one hand and turns out a finished product on the other.

Swift & Company keeps down the "spread", or the expense absorbed between raw and finished material, to as low a figure as possible. (If it didn't it would be put out of business by others who do.)

How much Swift & Company pays for the raw material, and how much it gets for the finished product, depends upon conditions which Swift & Company does not control.

It depends entirely upon how much people want the finished product, and how much raw material there is available to make it from.

The profits of Swift & Company amount to less than one cent per pound on all meats and by-products, —less than one-fourth of a cent on beef.
